COTTON MARKETS

Cables Again Better Than Due But More Disposition This Side to React.

Thursday Afternoon, Dec. 4. Sentiment in the market today was confused and traders at sea as to which way to proceed. There was significant in the face of the continued unsettled industrial conditions and the prospect of further curtailment of aclivity because of the fuel situation, yet incentive to taking the buying side while livity because of the fuel situation, yet incentive to taking the buying side while unrect is so widespread and uncertainties so many was lacking. Across the water the scramble to get hold of the actual continued, reflecting conditions og this side and the natural enhancement of value because of the exchange depreciation and prospect of lessened movement from this side because of trouble ships will halve to get coal affect tomorrow. The widening of differences between the near and distant positions merely helps to show how unnatural the market is at the present time.

Liverpool was due to come 11 to 17 points to the bad, but at the close she was from 45 points up to 24 down, tone called irregular. Spots were marked up 29 points, middling to 25.52d, with sales 14.000 bales, the biggest for one day in some time. Imports for the day were 14,000 bales, but none American markets reflected the strength abroad and some more buying for foreign account. March in New York opened at 34.80c, a rise overnight of 18 points, but some profits were accepted and a dip to 34.70c followed, only to be followed by a rise to 24.97c, which appeared the limit for the time being. Sterling rates were slightly better, but there was continued anxiety about the Mexican situation, which appears to be full of dangerous possibilities. Trading was on a small scale, and nobody scemed disposed to do very much on either side. Some more private estimates on yield were out, one for 10.448,000 and another for 10.346,000, but there was expectation of private figures on ginning which would tend to encourage larger yield ideas.

The list sold off gradually and March touched as low as 34.45c, but advices from some sections that spot demand was good and offerings of the better grades were very limited induced fresh support. Texas wires said business in such was being done at the best basis of the season. March sold back up to 34.77c, but later on some more selling came in and a short while before the close the option had sold as low as 34.30c, and apparen

Liverpool is due to come 5 points up

o 3 off. In the local market sales reported were 1,300 bales and quotations were unchanged, middling at 40c.

4The Cost

Perhaps you did not realize that syrup as a food is about the cheapest food. One pound of syrup has more food value than a pound of meat and is more fattening than a pound of butter at onethird the cost of the latter and onehalf the cost of meat.

NEW SOUTH SYRUP

Helps to Reduce the Cost of Living

It is pure sugar cane juice boiled to the right syrup consistency. It is not adulterated in any way, nothing has been added to it or noth-ing taken away. Because of this it has every bit of energy and food value possible to be obtained in syrup. New South Syrup can be used in many ways and will help reduce the cost of living. Spread it on your bread thus saving butter and serve it with cakes, waffles,

DAILY PORT MOVEMENT.

Prices turned easier during the middle of the morning, owing to increased nervouences over the Mexican situation, with January selling off to 3,670, and May to 3,280, or 2 to 15 points net lower. Prices were steadled at this level by reports that the production of coal was increasing and there were rallies of 16 or 15 points around midday. Spot cotton steady municing 38,5%. NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4—A better tone in the foreign exchange market and a higher Liverpool than due put the price of cotton 25 to 22 points up in the first half hour of business today. A somewhat less unfavorable view of the coal strike appeared to be gaining ground.

The market survey of the coal strike appeared to be gaining ground.

The market turned dull and rather casy in the absence of any special support. Toward noon the trading menths were well down from the highest levels, standing 11 to 18 points under the close of yesterday.

Reports of a growing shortage of the better grades of spots in the interior gave the market a steadler tone. At it o'clock prices were at net advances of 2 to 17 points.

Absence of Selling Pressure Early and Forecast Unsettled Weather Helps.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Absence of sell-CHICAGO. Dec. 4—Absence of selling pressure led to an upturn today in the price of corn. A forecast of uffisettled weather tended somewhat to strengthen the market, and so, too, did firmer foreign exchange. Opening prices, which ranged from $\frac{1}{2}$c off to a like advance, with December $1.39\frac{1}{2}$ is $3\frac{1}{2}$ and May $1.33\frac{1}{2}$ is, were foilewed by material gains all around and then something of a sag.

Assumption that the coal strike might be settled in the immediate future brought about a sharp setback later. Prices closed unsettled at $\frac{1}{2}$ of ret lower to $1\frac{1}{2}$ c advance, with December $1.39\frac{1}{2}$ and May $1.3\tau$ to $1.34\frac{1}{2}$.

Outs were governed by fluctuations in corn values. After onening $\frac{1}{2}$ decline to $\frac{1}{2}$ c advance, including $\frac{1}{2}$ and advance, including $\frac{1}{2}$ decline to $\frac{1}{2}$ c advance, including $\frac{1}{2}$ decline weakness in the hog market.

Subsequently, weakness $\frac{1}{2}$ eveloped owing to declines in the corn market.
